

Electrophysiology

York Hospitals' Cardiology team also offers electrophysiology as a specialty. If heart rhythm problems are discovered, physicians and members of the team will perform the appropriate procedures including ablation or the implant of a pacemaker (including biventricular) or defibrillator.

