

Support

York Hospital does offer an ICD Support group to offer educational and emotional support to patients and family who have confronted life-threatening situations and are reliant on these cardiac implants to help prevent re-occurrences. The support group is open to any cardiac defibrillator patient and their family. Individuals who have had their devices implanted at other hospitals, as well as drop-in vacationers are welcome. Visit the Support Groups page for more information.

