

NEWBORN PHOTOGRAPHY

In partnership with York Hospital, Mercy Street Studio is pleased to provide beautiful in-room newborn photography. These sessions typically take place within the first 48 hours of your little one's arrival. These documentary style sessions capture your family's first moments together and all the sweet, fleeting details of your baby's first days.

This partnership enables us to provide patients expert photography by one of Maine's top photography studios, at special pricing. There is no cost for the session, or obligation to purchase your photos.

If you wish to be photographed, simply notify your nurse. The photographer will stop by your room to photograph your baby/family. The images from your session will be uploaded to a private online gallery and emailed to you within 72 hours. You will have two weeks to purchase images from your online gallery.
